

←

Post

Alt National Park Service

@altnps.bsky.social

While Trump has been distracting America with everything else, Elon Musk's staffers are quietly taking over NOAA and the Department of Labor. They are also using AI to help rewrite a significant portion of the federal government's computer systems.

February 5, 2025 at 4:11 PM  Everybody can reply

3K reposts

159 quotes

8.8K likes

 291

 3.2K

 8.8K

Write your reply

Alt National Park Service @altnps.bsky.social · 1d

Concerns arose when it was suggested that employees' personal data be aggregated in ways that would violate privacy laws without consent. When an employee raised this issue, the response was that they would "try to get consent," but that it shouldn't stop them from moving forward with the project.

 14

 345

 2.1K

Alt National Park Service @altnps.bsky.social · 1d

Don't get distracted—that's exactly what they want. Stay focused.

 19

 276

 2.5K

Jaxs05 @jaxs05.bsky.social · 10h

I can multi-task and like many women I am good at it..I won't give up. Thanks for your posts!

 9

Patti @pattirich.bsky.social · 1h

I'm a retired IT Professional. 1) They don't know the system 2)I'm sure they aren't doing reviews, extensive QA, going through board of approval before putting it into production. 3) All of these servers are compromised and if we ever get control back, the entire network will need to be replaced.

Disc

Follo

Popu

Scie

Top

More

Feed

1 of 1

2/6/2025, 9:46 PM